

Autumn 2010

Luxury autumn and winter breaks

Combrew autumn and winter breaks are becoming increasingly popular. The summer visitors to North Devon have all gone and our beaches, towns and villages have a quieter, more intimate atmosphere.

In recent years we've been enjoying a run of warm Indian summers. Often the sun is out and it's balmy enough to wander the sands and countryside without scarves and jumpers. But we all know that the English weather can turn! This is where Combrew comes into its own. You don't have to venture out to enjoy your holiday. Swim in our luxury indoor heated pool, bask in the warmth of our steam sauna and solarium, tone up in our fitness room, play badminton on our indoor court, or enjoy table tennis and pool in the games room. The late autumn evenings can feel distinctly chilly too. Here at Combrew our cottages are luxuriously equipped, and the woodburners and four-poster beds will keep you warm and snug.

Don't forget Christmas

Now's just the time to book your Christmas break at Combrew. You'll find Christmas with us a time to remember. No work, no hassle, just pure relaxation and enjoyment in a real home from home.

Old-world charm and a friendly atmosphere

Open six days a week, Barnstaple's unique and spectacular pannier market is always worth a visit – it's just a couple of miles up the road from Combrew. You'll find a huge range of exciting goods and local produce, including fresh foods, handmade arts and crafts, prints and pictures, fashion and clothes.

If you're a keen bargain hunter, don't miss the Wednesday antiques and collectables market.

Built in 1855, the pannier market with its lofty arched roof is as impressive as a cathedral. In the early days, farmers' wives would fill their pannier baskets with jams and cheeses and travel in and sell their wares out of their baskets.

Barnstaple's pannier market has been voted amongst the top ten food markets in the country. It's always bustling and friendly.

Great golf on your doorstep

If you enjoy a round of golf, you'll feel at home here in North Devon. We've courses to suit every taste and level of experience, and all within a few miles of Combrew.

At High Bullen the course is set in richly wooded parkland with breathtaking views of Dartmoor and Exmoor.

The classic links course at Saunton is framed by magnificent sand hills – the character of the terrain and the vagaries of the sea breezes combine to create a wonderfully absorbing challenge.

Located on heathland and with some spectacular views, Great Torrington golf club is deservedly popular, and offers a true challenge to the most experienced and skilful players.

At Portmore, just two miles up the road from Combrew, there's a floodlit, undercover range. The course has been sensitively designed to incorporate lakes, wetland areas and woodland, so that it is also a vital haven for wildlife.

Fresh veg delivered to your cottage door

Local Farm Box will deliver fruit and vegetables from North Devon farms direct to your Combrew cottage door. Their range of fresh produce is huge, and they are always happy to fill a box to suit your own taste and requirements. Your delivery can be topped up with salads, meats, dairy produce, eggs, and a whole lot more. Everything is chosen for maximum flavour – there's nothing bland in a Local Farm Box selection!

Choose a mixed veg box, a mixed salad box, or a fruit box, all in a range of sizes – don't forget the special family-size box. They make no delivery charge and you can order from the website or talk to us when you arrive at Combrew. It's already popular with our guests.

Great food in the perfect seaside setting

Instow: a relaxing afternoon wandering the sands, your children paddling in the shallows or building sandcastles. It's the perfect seaside village, and just four miles from Combrew.

To finish your Instow day, why not visit the acclaimed Boathouse Restaurant? It faces the beach and enjoys stunning views across the estuary to the fishing village of Appledore and Lundy Island.

You're guaranteed a convivial atmosphere, fine food and excellent beers. Choose from the tried and tested popular menu or the daily specials – plus, of course, the excellent fresh fish dishes the Boathouse is renowned for. There's something delicious to suit all palates, including green-lipped mussels, butterfly prawns, spinach and marscapone lasagne, avocado and mushroom bake, lobster tails, and sirloin and fillet steaks.

The Boathouse chefs source the very best local produce, from fish landed on the beach to local lamb. Salads, herbs and vegetables are grown in the restaurant's own kitchen garden.

Friendly and informal, a meal at the Boathouse is always a special experience.

Go fly-fishing

Tucked within a beautiful valley near Barnstaple, and surrounded by rolling hills, Blakewell is every fisherman's dream. It offers what many anglers consider to be the best still water trout fishing available. Rainbow trout are stocked all year round, and brown trout from April to September. All fish stocks are produced at Blakewell, so you are guaranteed a fresh razor-finned trout to cook for your supper.

Why not bring the family along and let them all have a try? Blakewell provide all the tackle, and will clean and pack your catch for you. It's a great family experience.

And if you're keen to learn how to fly fish, Blakewell run excellent courses.
